

LEAVING A LEGACY

3 Ways to Support Multiplication Network in Your Will

Your will (or trust) is a powerful tool for leaving a legacy of care and generosity. Through it, you can provide for the needs of your loved ones. You can also give in a substantial way to Multiplication Network Ministries (MNM). But what's the best way to accomplish your personal and charitable goals?

Here are three common ways people include charitable giving in their estate plans.

Percentage or Tithe

Many individuals choose to allocate a certain percentage of their estate toward charity. Some choose to specifically designate 10 percent of their belongings toward Kingdom causes because they wish to reinforce to their families the biblical concept of tithing.

Child Named Charity

Some families choose to add a "child named Charity" to their will or trust. By this method, for example, if a couple had four children, each of the children would receive 1/5 of their belongings, and the remaining 1/5 could go toward their favorite Kingdom causes.

Gifts of Assets

Perhaps you have a specific non-cash asset that you'd like to give to Multiplication Network, such as a gift of real estate, business interests, life insurance, retirement assets, machinery or even a collection. People often designate assets as gifts for a number of reasons, whether it's because the property has special meaning, their children have no further use for it or because they wish to protect their families from unnecessary taxes.

Talk With a Planner

You have complimentary access to trusted planning support through our partnership with Barnabas Foundation. A planner will help you identify the best giving options for you, answering your questions with the utmost integrity. Their goal is to help you make God-honoring decisions in an atmosphere of confidence and trust.
